BUILDING REGULATION SEMINAR, FIRE SAFETY IN RETAIL

New and altered commercial premises are often subject to the Building Regulations with the 'go to' guidance document being Approved Document B: Fire Safety Volume 2 – Buildings Other than Dwellinghouses.

However, within that document there are lists of other guidance relevant to retail premises. It has never been more important to ensure that the national fire safety standards are met but it can be a very complex area. Furthermore, occupied commercial premises are also subject to the ongoing control by The Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005. This order lays down some basic legal requirements that a 'Responsible person' should meet in order to fulfil their duties on fire safety.

This seminar will detail some common problematic scenarios in retail premises and offer some clarity on the fire safety requirements imposed.
