CHOPPING PRINCIPLE™

Eliet has developed and patented a unique shredder system: the Chopping Principle™. Just like an axe, the blades chop the wood according to the direction of the grain. The green waste is processed into small chips in a cycle of splitting and cutting. The result is quick composting chips. The best thing about the Eliet Chopping Principle™ is its low power usage for its wood cutting performance. Cutting wood is easier in the direction of the grain and the shredder system eagerly puts this feature to use.
