CREATING YOUR ARRAY BATHROOM

The key to our contemporary modular Array range is its flexibility. The core units can be put together in a wide variety of configurations, giving you many different basin unit options. The choice is yours - from a single wall hung basin unit, with or without open storage, to a luxurious 1200mm 4 drawer 'his and hers' design.

Isocast worktops are available in 600, 900 and 1200mm lengths and are supplied uncut so that they can be prepared for the correct positioning of either basin option on installation.

There are two types of drawer unit, one of which has a cut-out for plumbing which should always be used directly underneath the basin. The other optional drawer unit, without cut-out, can be used either stacked underneath or alongside if desired to combine to make a double drawer unit. Alternatively use it with a 300 or 600mm open storage unit to give a modern look which is just that little bit different. These open units have a glass shelf which adds to the contemporary styling.

For an overview of the variety of configurations possible when using Array see overleaf on pages 18 and 19.

A single compact one metre unit which incorporates a 500mm basin unit and a 500mm back to wall unit. Available in two contemporary cross-cut style textured wood finishes as well as gloss white, it is set off by touches of chrome on the discreet door handles and toilet panel trim. Installation is very easy, with no cutting required to fit the basin. We recommend use of the Tavistock Vortex cistern (see page 126).
